

Presented by the Sustainable Oregon Schools Initiative

Educating for Sustainability

Don't miss this stimulating presentation

Jaimie Cloud

One of the nation's leading experts on the topic

Founder and President, Cloud Institute for Sustainability Education

When: February 20, 9 AM - 12 PM

Who: Teachers, board members, administrators and other public, charter and independent school staff, parents, and all others who care about schools

Where: Gladstone High School; 18800 Portland Avenue, Gladstone, OR

Tour: The presentation will be followed by a tour of the new Gladstone School District facilities that were designed and built for sustainability.

Continuing Professional Development certificates will be available.

Cost: FREE for K-12 school system employees
$35 for all others

To register: Brown paper Tickets at <http://www.brownpapertickets.com/event/97051>

Please Come! Important Topic - Snacks - Facility Tour Please Come!

About the Presentation: In this interactive session participants will develop a shared understanding of sustainability and Education for Sustainability (EfS). We will explore the Cloud Institute's Framework for Education for Sustainability, look at student work samples, and analyze them for evidence of the knowledge, skills and attitudes we are cultivating. Samples of EfS units of study designed by teachers will be available to review and discuss, and we will explore what it takes to embed EfS into curriculum and instruction. Jaimie will address any questions and comments people have about implementation during the wrap up.

About the presenter: Jaimie Cloud is an engaging presenter and internationally recognized expert in Sustainability Education, who works with schools and districts around the country. She is the founder and president of the Cloud Institute for Sustainability Education in NYC. <http://www.sustainabilityed.org/>

Hosted by Gladstone School District